There are several online Facebook groups that are monitored by many collectors. You may request to join the group(s) and post photos of your piece with a written description and your question(s) to the group (using the guidelines set forth by the groups – these can be found under the “About” section or the “Announcements” section of a group). Here are three Facebook groups that I recommend:

- “Just North Carolina Pottery to 1975”
- “Southern Folk & Art Pottery Collectors”
- “Pottery Collector”
